

DO YOU KNOW SOUTH AFRICAN PORK?

South African Pork Producers have made quality assurance a top priority.

South African pork sold in butcheries with a good reputation, and in supermarkets, is certified safe.

The South African Pork Industry is proud to be a Heart Mark holder, and has supported the work of the Heart and Stroke Foundation for many decades.

South African pork is a high quality, nutrient dense food that should form part of a balanced eating programme to promote good health.

South African pork is always tender and unlike other meats, it doesn't need any 'ripening' process to ensure tender meat.

Compared with other meats and poultry, the price per kilogram of lean South African pork is a real bargain.

Fresh pork in South Africa is a modern, nutritious and 100% safe meal choice.
